

I feel that the cable companies act like a monopoly and force their subscribers to pay for large packages of channels. They do not offer a cheaper alternative. I feel they should offer smaller packages for less money or allow a la carte. Some satellite providers do offer different tier levels of packages and offer some cheaper alternatives, however Comcast, the cable provider in my area does not. I am forced to pay for over 70 channels. I am not sure what can be done about this. But I feel that the cable companies should offer different tier levels of channels with some budget levels.

Thank you,
Matt Miller